

FAA Safety Team presents:

Storms - Big and Less Big

Please join us in welcoming Mike Buresh, Action News JAX Chief Meteorologist, as he once again entertains and educates us about Northeast Florida weather: From localized thunderstorms to large-scale Atlantic activity, from steady-state convection to short-lived microbursts, we'll spend some quality time with a veteran "All the Weather, All the Time" guy. Discussions will include thunderstorm forecasting, the slow start to the 2016 storm season, and what's up with Major Hurricane landfall in Florida over the years, as well as several other items of weather uniqueness for our area.

Please note: This is hurricane season, and this presenter is in high demand. Should significant storm activity be present on this date, he'll be unable to attend, and we'll have no choice but to reschedule the event. The backup-plan weather day is 2 weeks later: 10am, August 27. Should this occur, it will likely be last-minute, and we'll post on the Facebook page to let you know of the cancellation. This notice should also cancel, and re-post automatically to the new proposed date.

Directions: Jacksonville Airport Authority - Craig Airport conference room located at the base of the Control Tower. If flying in, please note that Sky Harbor FBO is closest to the conference room.
